

I am frightened by the fact that this BPL will come at a huge cost to the AMATEUR RADIO SERVICE. I am also upset with the fact that the FCC will not enforce any interference laws regarding BPL and the power companies and the interference they will cause. Ham Radio and the services it provides will be gone. I am against BPL if it causes the interference that everyone says it will cause. Is the FCC going to enforce the law with the powerline companies?